

THE
ECLECTIC MAGAZINE

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

SEPTEMBER TO DECEMBER, 1862.

---

J.W. H. BIDWELL, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

---

NEW-YORK:
PUBLISHED AT No. 5 BEEKMAN STREET.
1862.

INDEX.

LIST OF EMBELLISHMENTS. ✓

Engraved by George E. Perline.

|                                                                          |          |                                                                 |         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| 1. THE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA.                                                |          | Henry Son of James the First,                                   | 426     |
| 2. FRANCIS JOSEPH EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA.                                    |          | Hoerlina, abbot,                                                | 518     |
| 3. THE EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA.                                               |          | Hooper,                                                         | 56      |
| 4. REV. ALBERT BARNEE.                                                   |          | Hooper Bishop,                                                  | 291     |
| Absence of Mind,                                                         | 142      | Hugo, Victor, Literature of— London Eclectic ,           | 489     |
| Alkin's, Miss, Seminary,                                                 | 280      | Hunter, William,                                                | 206     |
| Alpine Peas and Passes— British Quarterly ,                       | 183, 185 | Jorgensen, Jorgen,                                              | 342     |
| American Theological Review,                                             | 429      | Justus,                                                         | 291     |
| Anglo-Saxon and Anglo-Norman Christianity— North British Review , | 289, 511 | Kashchmanu, Queen,                                              | 321     |
| Appleton's Cyclopedia,                                                   | 429      | Lanci-                                                          | 512     |
| Archaeologist in Trouble— Bentley's Miscellany ,                  | 237      | La Pace, Marquise de, death of,                                 | 27      |
| Artificial Stone,                                                        | 431      | Lan en Isa,                                                     | 295     |
| Asbes'or Paper,                                                          | 295      | Louis Philippe, Victor Hugo's Sketch of,                        | 27      |
| Assyrian History,                                                        | 288      | Louis the Sixteen h characterized by Marie Antoinette,          | 221     |
| Athenian Antiquities,                                                    | 144      | Luc etius his deities                                           | 305     |
| Aurora Borealis,                                                         | 393      | Mandat's Assassination,                                         | 231     |
| Avalanches,                                                              | 138, 185 | Ma le Alexandrowna, Empress of Russia,                          | 182     |
| Baku, the Eternal Fires of— Chamber's Journal ,                   | 169      | Marie Antoinette a la Comedie Italienne,                        | 225     |
| Berkshire Lady's Garland— Book of Days ,                          | 297      | Ma le An olne to's Last Hours,                                  | 236     |
| Bi-Centenary Movement,                                                   | 490      | Ma y, Queen of Eng and,                                         | 304     |
| Bitter Bit,                                                              | 296      | Nikon, the Patriarch— Ecclesiastic Review ,              | 383     |
| Bonapartes and the Papacy,                                               | 281      | Pethlon,                                                        | 22      |
| Books in England and Germany,                                            | 284      | Rattazzi,                                                       | 547     |
| Borromeo, the Astrologer— Dublin University Magazine              | 404      | Ricasoli, Baron,                                                | 539     |
| Brady's Photograph Gallery,                                              | 480      | Richa dson, the Showman,                                        | 264     |
| Bread Eighteen Hundred Years Old,                                        | 295      | Rio and's Madame, Lette to the King,                            | 227     |
| Breath of Life, the— Popular Science Review ,                     | 180      | Southey and he Bookstall-man,                                   | 265     |
| Buckle, Henry Thomas— Fraser's Magazine ,                         | 347      | Theodorus of Tarsus,                                            | 299     |
| Burning of the Russian Steppe,                                           | 58       | Vidocq,                                                         | 943     |
| Butter, Well-kept,                                                       | 284      | Carbonic Acid,                                                  | 570     |
| BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES AND BRIEF MEMORANDA OF—                            |          |                                                                 |         |
| Abdul Aziz, Sultan, his policy,                                          | 91       | Caverns and their Contents— Popular Science Review ,     | 398     |
| Albert Edward, Prince of Wales,                                          | 427      | Celtic Monuments, M. Bertrand's Essay on,                       | 237     |
| Alfred, Prince, in Russia,                                               | 280      | Chips from Notable Ships— Lecture Hour ,                 | 346     |
| Anselm,                                                                  | 516      | Coral, Growth of,                                               | 571     |
| Arthur, Son of Henry the Seventh,                                        | 476      | Cochin China,                                                   | 570     |
| Augustine, Saint,                                                        | 292      | Claudian Aqueduct,                                              | 570     |
| Barnave,                                                                 | 223      | College at Belrus,                                              | 180     |
| Barnes, Rev. Albert,                                                     | 566      | Combustion the Phenomena of,                                    | 180     |
| Bonne 'Ho'rible Atrocities,                                              | 292      | Comet of 1-62, the— Popular Science Review ,             | 524     |
| Browning, Elizabeth Barrett— Dublin University Magazine           | 274      | Compliment, Beautiful,                                          | 570     |
| Bunyan, John, New Tomb,                                                  | 268      | Copying Telegraph, Bakewell's,                                  | 431     |
| Canler, Ex-chief of the Service de Surete, Paris,                        | 248      | Corona,                                                         | 392     |
| Ca ile,                                                                  | 250      | Coroner on Crinoline,                                           | 569     |
| Chambo d, Comte de, in the House of Commons,                             | 293      | Costermongers, London,                                          | 264     |
| Charles Fifth's Autobiography,                                           | 144      | Country Living and Country Thinking,                            | 428     |
| Charles the First,                                                       | 426      | Court, the English,                                             | 238     |
| Charles the Second,                                                      | 427      | Crannogues, I sh,                                               | 197     |
| Clay, Cassius M., and Alexander the Second,                              | 573      | "Cur Deus Homo,"                                                | 518     |
| Columbus's Statue,                                                       | 281      | Curious Facts,                                                  | 144     |
| Cromwell's Life, the Theory of— London Eclectic ,                 | 465      | Dauphin's Prayer, the,                                          | 284     |
| De Po tal Famly, the— London Review ,                             | 480      | "De Corpore et Sanguine Domini Nostri,"                         | 514     |
| Desmodium, Camile,                                                       | 225      | Disagreeable People, Concerning— Fraser's Magazine ,     | 209     |
| Dunstan,                                                                 | 300      | Distressed Weavers,                                             | 579     |
| Edward, Son of Henry the Sixth,                                          | 425      | Divining Rod, he,                                               | 528     |
| Edward the Black Prince,                                                 | 425      | Don't write there!                                              | 286     |
| Edwa d the Sixth,                                                        | 59       | Dependent Thinkers, the,                                        | 323     |
| Elizabeth Amella Eugenie, Empress of Austria,                            | 423      | Don't you believe it, my Dear!—J. W. THIRLWALL,                 | 144     |
| Empe or of France, Visit to, by a Vete an.                               | 285      | Effluvia, Animal, their Fatal Results,                          | 153     |
| Eugenie, Empress of the French— St. James's Magazine ,            | 331      | Electrical Phenomena of Vesuvius,                               | 570     |
| Francis Joseph, Empor of Austria,                                        | 279      | Elephant, a Lively,                                             | 288     |
| Francis the Second and the Czar,                                         | 572      | England laid under Interdict— Book of Days ,             | 510     |
| Frederick, Son of George the Second,                                     | 427      | English at Home— London Review ,                         | 39, 263 |
| Garibaldi, Giuseppe,                                                     | 569      | Ericsson's Monitor,                                             | 284     |
| George the Second,                                                       | 426      | Ethnological Divisions of the Turkish Empire,                   | 87      |
| George the Third at Windsor,                                             | 572      | "Evening-Glow" of the Alps,                                     | 160     |
| George the Fou th,                                                       | 427      | Exhibition, Permanent, In Paris,                                | 282     |
| Goethe, Johann Wolfgang— Book of Days ,                           | 411      | Exhibition, the Great, of 1862— British Quarterly ,      | 79      |
| Grant, Colonel Colquhoun,                                                | 119      | Father Time—J. W. THIRLWALL,                                    | 280     |
|                                                                          |          | Fire-King, a French,                                            | 287     |
|                                                                          |          | Fish-World, the, at Home— London Intellectual Observer , | 387     |
|                                                                          |          | France and Italy— British Quarterly ,                    | 145     |
|                                                                          |          | France and Napoleon III.— Westminster Review ,           | 20      |
|                                                                          |          | Frankincense and Coffee Mountains— Chamber's Journal     |         |
|                                                                          |          | nas,                                                            | 12      |

INDEX.

|                                                                                 |                              |  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|--|
| French Police System, the— Bentley's Miscellany ,                        |                              |  |
| French Problem, the Great— London Eclectic ,                             |                              |  |
| Froude's History of England— London Review ,                             | 50, 200                      |  |
| Garibaldi, German Address to,                                                   | 588                          |  |
| Garland-Maker, the,                                                             | 247                          |  |
| Gentlemen at Home, Be,                                                          | 482                          |  |
| Geological Changes in Scotland in Historic Times— North British Review , | 1                            |  |
| Gleases,                                                                        | 45, 52                       |  |
| Glaciers in the East Indies,                                                    | 287                          |  |
| Glorias or Anthelia,                                                            | 393                          |  |
| Guard-Room, New, and Stables at Holyrood,                                       | 569                          |  |
| Gunpowder, Improvement in,                                                      | 285                          |  |
| Gunpowder Superceded,                                                           | 291                          |  |
| Gymnastics, New, Dio Lewis's,                                                   | 141                          |  |
| Halos,                                                                          | 392                          |  |
| Hallucinations of the Great,                                                    | 432                          |  |
| Harbor, Proposed, in Italy,                                                     | 285                          |  |
| Hawaiian Character,                                                             | 319                          |  |
| Hawaiian Islands, the— London Quarterly ,                                | 317                          |  |
| Hawaiian Islands. With some Notes by the Editors,                               | 420                          |  |
| Heavens, Aspects of the— London Eclectic ,                               | 118                          |  |
| Heliochromy,                                                                    | 431                          |  |
| Herds, the, of the Russian Steppes,                                             | 82                           |  |
| Holland,                                                                        | 41                           |  |
| Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem,                                                    | 118                          |  |
| Honolulu, its Climate,                                                          | 318                          |  |
| How I became a Physician— Chamber's Journal ,                            | 36                           |  |
| Ice-Palace on the St. Lawrence,                                                 | 569                          |  |
| Iceland, a King of— Cobden's Nap Monthly ,                               | 340                          |  |
| Idol Head, the, of the Jivaros— London Intellectual Observer ,           | 395                          |  |
| Idols, Destruction of, in Hawaii,                                               | 322                          |  |
| Ignorance of Man, the— National Review ,                                 | 905                          |  |
| Image, the, and the Echo— Dublin University Magazine ,                   | 112                          |  |
| "In Clear Dream and Solemn Vision." By the Author of "Rab and his Friends."     | 270                          |  |
| Indigenous Vegetables of Hawaii,                                                | 311                          |  |
| Isanne, Treatment of the— London Eclectic &amp; series ,                 | 450                          |  |
| Intemperance,                                                                   | 290                          |  |
| Iron-sides, Our New— Popular Science Review ,                            | 526                          |  |
| Italy and France,                                                               | 129                          |  |
| Jesuits, Order of,                                                              | 286                          |  |
| Kinds of Love,                                                                  | 143                          |  |
| Kitchen Accomplishments,                                                        | 432                          |  |
| Knights Templars, the— Book of Days ,                                    | 417                          |  |
| Koh-i-noor, Adventures of the— Book of Days ,                            | 445                          |  |
| Lacustrine Abodes of Man, Troyon's— Edinburgh Review ,                   | 185                          |  |
| Land Anions in the Coal Measures of Nova Scotia,                                | 571                          |  |
| Laughter, Hints towards a Treatise on— London Eclectic ,                 | 256                          |  |
| Laughter, Hobbes's Theory of,                                                   | 257                          |  |
| Ladies, Young, a Lesson for,                                                    | 28                           |  |
| Lead Pipes,                                                                     | 286                          |  |
| Like and Unlike,                                                                | 429                          |  |
| Lime-Light, the— Chamber's Journal ,                                     | 302                          |  |
| Lion, Tête-a-Tête with a— Chamber's Journal ,                            | 16                           |  |
| LITERARY MISCCELLANIES,                                                         | 141-4, 230-5, 428-32, 567-72 |  |
| Locusts of the Russian Steppes,                                                 | 84                           |  |
| London Fire Department,                                                         | 288                          |  |
| Loose Thinkers                                                                  | 329                          |  |
| Lossing's Pictorial History of the Rebellion,                                   | 280                          |  |
| Love is only a Dream—J. W. THIRLWALL,                                           | 251                          |  |
| Marriage,                                                                       | 431                          |  |
| Marriage of Priests in France,                                                  | 2-3                          |  |
| Mary, English,                                                                  | 201                          |  |
| Matter, Divisibility of,                                                        | 430                          |  |
| Matter, the Meta-morphoses of— Temple Bar Magazine ,                     | 173                          |  |
| Memorial Volume of the A.B.C.F.M.,                                              | 141                          |  |
| Memories, Great— Dublin University Magazine ,                            | 549                          |  |
| Meteors,                                                                        | 2-7                          |  |
| Military System, English,                                                       | 263                          |  |
| Model, a, and a Wife— Praefer's Magazine ,                               | 96                           |  |
| Molay, Jacques de,                                                              | 419                          |  |
| Monuments of Baku,                                                              | 171                          |  |
| Motive Power, New,                                                              | 2-5                          |  |
| Mud-Larks, English,                                                             | 265                          |  |
| Murat e lam, a, on Naples,                                                      | 571                          |  |
| Music at Home,                                                                  | 143                          |  |
| Music and Odor,                                                                 | 369                          |  |
| Napoleon's Policy in Italy,                                                     | 579                          |  |
| Naval Forces of France,                                                         | 143                          |  |
| Oak Timber, Destruction of, in Sea-Water by Contact with Iron,                  | 523                          |  |
| Ocean Animalcula,                                                               | 315                          |  |
| Oman and Haoram-ut,                                                             | 12                           |  |
| Omens and Women's Ideas,                                                        | 284                          |  |
| Optical Phenomena of the Atmosphere— Popular Science Review ,            | 391                          |  |
| Parsonians on Lake Prasias in Thrace,                                           | 188                          |  |
| Parshella or Mock Sun,                                                          | 393                          |  |
| Parasolens or Mock Moons,                                                       | 393                          |  |
| Parties and Principles in 1862— Dublin University Magazine ,             | 522                          |  |
| Pauperism in England and Wales, Increase of,                                    | 2-2                          |  |
| Peg too L. w.,                                                                  | 301                          |  |
| Pel roseum Springs in North America,                                            | 571                          |  |
| Phenomenon, Singular,                                                           | 237                          |  |
| Philosopher's Stone, the,                                                       | 241                          |  |
| Ph-enophorus Its Transformations,                                               | 78                           |  |
| Photography and Ethnology,                                                      | 571                          |  |
| Physical Exercise,                                                              | 141                          |  |
| Pinkle Leugh, the Victory of,                                                   | 52                           |  |
| Plagiarist's Whiskers,                                                          | 273                          |  |
| Planets, their Light and Heat,                                                  | 117                          |  |
| Pola d, the Last King of— Athenaeum ,                                    | 4-5                          |  |
| Pompeian Excavations,                                                           | 2-6                          |  |
| P-impell. Ex avation at,                                                        | 142                          |  |
| Pope and the Interrogation-Point,                                               | 148                          |  |
| Pret-Historica Mex.,                                                            | 185                          |  |
| Pretty Women,                                                                   | 482                          |  |
| Prince Consort's Mausoleum at Frogmore— Builder ,                        | 2-3                          |  |
| Princess and Princesses of Wales,                                               | 425                          |  |
| "Proslogion seu Alloquium de Dei Existenti,"                                    | 518                          |  |
| Prussia, Crisis in— London Times ,                                       | 564                          |  |
| Railways, Philosophy of— Bentley's Miscellany ,                          | 377                          |  |
| Railway Traveling in Great Britain,                                             | 493                          |  |
| Rainbow, the,                                                                   | 392                          |  |
| Reign of Terror—Part Second— Fraser's Magazine ,                         | 221                          |  |
| Religion and Morality,                                                          | 305                          |  |
| Religious Distinctions in the Turkish Empire,                                   | 88                           |  |
| Respiration, Imperfect,                                                         | 181                          |  |
| Roman Colon. Interesting Discovery of,                                          | 140                          |  |
| Russian Steppe, the— Bentley's Miscellany ,                              | 8                            |  |
| Russia, Old Times in— Albion's New Monthly ,                             | 123                          |  |
| Salt-Springs of Cheshire,                                                       | 266                          |  |
| Scotland, Geological Changes in,                                                | 1                            |  |
| Scouts, One of Wellington's— St James's Magazine ,                       | 118                          |  |
| Serpent-Worship, or Ophiolatry— St James's Magazine ,                    | 519                          |  |
| Sex of Eggs,                                                                    | 2-3                          |  |
| Shark, a, out of his Latitude,                                                  | 569                          |  |
| Sharpshooter's Love,                                                            | 148                          |  |
| Sheep and Wool of the Russian Steppes,                                          | 83                           |  |
| Sheo-men, English,                                                              | 263                          |  |
| Ship, the, fr Drinage,                                                          | 148                          |  |
| Ske eton a Living,                                                              | 431                          |  |
| Solar Spectrum, Researches on the— Westminster Review ,                  | 388                          |  |
| Solitary Day, Concerning— Fraser's Magazine ,                            | 499                          |  |
| Somerset's Protectorate,                                                        | 51                           |  |
| Song of Death, the,                                                             | 262                          |  |
| Soul and Delight— Dublin University Magazine ,                           | 410                          |  |
| Stars, Double— London Intellectual Observer ,                            | 412                          |  |
| Suicide of Judas,                                                               | 272                          |  |
| Summer Evening, a— Westerly Gibson ,                                     | 2-2                          |  |
| Sweden, Discoveries in, of an Ancient Race,                                     | 186                          |  |
| Tarving and Feathering,                                                         | 373                          |  |
| Tenacious Thinker, the,                                                         | 329                          |  |
| Theater, a long-closed, reopened,                                               | 142                          |  |
| Thiers' Prize,                                                                  | 2-7                          |  |
| Thoughts about Thinkers— Leisure Hour ,                                  | 326                          |  |
| Three Useful Inventions,                                                        | 144                          |  |
| Thrilling Scenes in the Alps,                                                   | 187                          |  |
| Tobacco-Poison,                                                                 | 144                          |  |
| Traditions of Hawaii,                                                           | 314                          |  |
| Tribes of the Russian Steppes,                                                  | 2                            |  |
| Tribute to Mrs Grinnell, by N. P. Willis,                                       | 286                          |  |
| Two Brides, the— Bentley's Miscellany ,                                  | 61                           |  |
| Two Hundred Shots a Minute,                                                     | 570                          |  |
| Turkish Empire, the— British Quarterly ,                                 | 85                           |  |
| Typhoon at Canton,                                                              | 572                          |  |
| "Use of Salisbury,"                                                             | 515                          |  |
| Veget-Wen, Human— Macmillan's Magazine ,                                 | 336                          |  |
| Vie Inertia, Curious Effect of,                                                 | 481                          |  |
| Volcanic Island, New, in the Caspian Sea,                                       | 571                          |  |
| Volcanic Phenomenon in Marita,                                                  | 570                          |  |
| Volcano, a New,                                                                 | 450                          |  |
| Volcano of Kilauea, Count Strzelecki's Account of,                              | 824                          |  |
| Wales,                                                                          | 42                           |  |
| Wealth, the Poverty of— Temple Bar Magazine ,                            | 304                          |  |
| Webster's Belief,                                                               | 2-4                          |  |
| Wine Origin of, Persian Account,                                                | 288                          |  |
| Woolwich,                                                                       | 261                          |  |
| Words with One Syllable,                                                        | 148                          |  |

392761744261059
5
6
11
1
10
14
19
24
4
89
57
18